Thanks for your interest in the Arcanum program.

Alchemy and magick are arts not to be undertaken lightly. The exercises and initiations you will receive can amplify mental health conditions. Alchemical medicines can interact with pre-existing medical conditions and/or medications that you may already take. Having a pre-existing medical condition or a mental health issue will not disqualify you from the program, but it helps to know a little bit about your circumstances before proceeding. To this end, please answer the questions below and email the form back to mail@benjaminturale.com

Please note that completing this form does not ensure your place in the course. Benjamin Turale reserves the right at any time to refuse students. Any information you share will be stored securely according to the National Privacy Act (1988) and will not be used for marketing purposes.

Have you had any prior experience learning alchemy or magick? Please outline below.

Do you have any other experience in esoteric arts, the occult, meditation or spiritual paths?

Are you currently seeing a counsellor, psychologist, psychiatrist or other mental health professional for any mental health issues?

Are you currently taking any medication? If yes, what for?

The practice of alchemy and magick can be dangerous. Formal laboratory training is recommended. Familiarize yourself with any laws which may apply to you in your jurisdiction and act accordingly. Consulting a licensed physician is encouraged before consuming herbal, animal, mineral or metallic preparations. Any handouts given to you during the class are copyrighted material and are not to be distributed or photocopied. The notes you write during class are yours to do with as you wish.

By signing this form you accept, understand and agree that Benjamin Turale shall not be held responsible, liable or accountable for your use or misuse of any information learnt during your studies with him.
